HISTORICAL.

The following articles, being authentic accounts of some of the most interesting events which have taken place in this town, are copied from ancient files of newspapers, most of them being extracted from the Providence Gazette, and it is believed their insertion in this work will gratify our patrons, particularly the younger portion of the community, many of whom have undoubtedly often heard of the events which they describe, but have never seen any account of them. To the gentlemen who have kindly furnished the publisher with the loan of papers, he would respectfully tender his thanks.

PROVIDENCE, JUNE 20, 1788.

On Tuesday morning last, the Eastern post brought the very interesting and important intelligence that the State of New-Hampshire had, on the Saturday preceding, ADOPTED the proposed Constitution, whereby the structure of the National Government was completed, and the Federal Edifice firmly established on nine glorious pillars. The joy of the people burst forth like a blaze, catching from breast to breast, till it pervaded the whole town, and it was impossible to restrain the most public testimonials of their satisfaction. All the bells were set a ringing, and continued the joyful peal with but short intermissions, through the day. At 12 o'clock a salute was fired by the United train of artillery on Federal Hill, in honor of the States which had adopted the Constitution, which was several times repeated in the course of the day. All the schools were dismissed for the day, and general gratulation, diffusing the most sincere jousiance among all ranks, succeeded. The wavering, and several of those who have heretofore appeared against the Constitution, now heartily joined in the general joy, which soon extended itself to the fair seat of the Muses on College Hill, when the scholars, with their books under their arms, unanimously joined in a solemn procession, and peripatetically and philosophically, in honor of the day, named the beautiful green round the College, the Federal Parade. The town of Providence is truly federal, and as the new Constitution will in its operation and consequences be more especially beneficial to this State than to any other in the confederacy—it is hoped the people thereof will soon be so convinced of it as to call a Convention, agreeable to the recommendation of Congress, for adding the Rhode-Island Pillar, which, though among the smallest, may yet be considered as not the least deserving, when a little more of its seeming Anti-federalism shall be rubbed off, and its genuine and intrinsic worth appear.—Gaz.

From the same of June 27, 1788.

At a general and very respectable meeting of the inhabitants of this town, convened pursuant to notice given in order to collect their opinions as to the most eligible mode of commemorating the anniversary of Independence, and of celebrating the auspicious event of the adoption of the Federal Constitution by nine States, it was voted,

1st. That the Hon. Jabez Bowen, Esq. be chosen Chairman of this meeting.

2dly. That the erection of the Ninth Pillar of the Federal structure, and the anniversary of American Independence be celebrated on Friday next, the 4th of July; and that an entertainment be prepared on said day, for as many of our fellow-citizens as will honor it with their presence.

3dly. That Capt. Paul Allen, Mr. Thomas L. Halsey*, Mr. Thomas Jones, Mr. Jeremiah F. Jenkins, and Mr. Robert Newell, be a committee to procure by subscription the necessary funds for providing the supplies and defraying incidental expenses.

4thly. That the aforesaid committee, together with Col. Zephaniah Andrews, Col. Daniel Tillinghast, Col. Christopher Olney, Deacon James Green, Joseph Martin, Esq. Col. Wm. Russell, Col. Joseph Nightingale, Mr. George Benson*, Mr. John Mason, Mr. Joshua Hacker, Welcome Arnold, Esq. Dea. Barzillai Richmond, Dea. Samuel Nightingale, Col. Levi Hall, Col. John Whipple, Mr. Aaron Mason, Major Charles Keen, David Howell, Esq. and Major James Burrill, be a committee to superintend and direct the business of the day; and that they also designate the place of celebration, after agreeing with the owners of the soil.

5thly. That the Rev. Enos Hitchcock be requested to deliver an oration, or discourse, suitable to the occasion, at the Baptist church, at half past 10 o'clock, A. M.

6thly. That the Rev. Clergy be requested to attend at the entertainment; and that the Chairman, Nicholas Brown, John Jenckes, and Joseph Martin, Esqs. be appointed a committee to wait on the Clergy with this request.

* The only survivors.

7thly. That the committee for purchasing supplies and superintending the business of the day, direct what articles and supplies shall be procured for the entertainment.

8thly. That John Brown, Benjamin Bourne, and Theodore Foster, Esqs. be appointed a committee to prepare an invitation to the inhabitants of town and country to attend on the occasion, and partake in the festivities of the day, and cause said invitation to be inserted in the newspapers.

9thly. That said last mentioned committee be requested to give particular invitation to his Excellency the Governor, his Honor the Deputy Governor, and the Assistants, to honor the day with their presence.

10thly. That the United Company of the Train of Artillery, commanded by Col. Daniel Tillinghast, be requested to usher in the day with a discharge of cannon, and to cause the other necessary firings on the occasion.

PROVIDENCE, JULY 5, 1788.

In pursuance of the intention mentioned in our last paper, yesterday was celebrated as a Festival in this town. At the moment of sunrising commenced a discharge of thirteen cannon. At 11 o'clock, a very numerous Assembly attended at the Baptist meeting-house, for the purpose of religious exercises and hearing an oration delivered by the Rev. Mr. Hitchcock. The oration was preceded by a prayer by Dr. Manning, and followed by another by the Rev. Mr. Snow. Some select pieces of Music were interspersed, and well performed, instrumentally as well as vocally, in the latter of which, some female voices added inimitable grace; and the Rev. Mr. Stanford dismissed the assembly by a very pertinent and solemn benediction.

The oration was full of manly eloquence and learning—on the late Revolution—the state of public affairs, and the NEW CONSTITUTION, together with the ratification thereof by NINE STATES. The most profound attention marked at once the abilities of the speaker, and the politeness of the audience.

About 2 o'clock, the procession was formed and moved to Federal Plain, where the entertainment was provided. The fall of rain just at that time detracted somewhat from the intended regularity of the procession; but the rain fortunately ceasing, the people partook of the repast at a table upwards of a thousand feet in length, the whole overspread with a canopy of canvass. Two well fatted oxen had been provided for the occasion, one of which was roasted whole, besides hams, wine, punch, &c. &c. The number of people who partook of the entertainment was not accurately ascertained, but was estimated to be between 5 and 6000, many of them from remote parts of the State, and some from the neighboring States. Fortunately, no accident took place to mar the felicity of the day, every countenance beaming with heart-felt joy, which discovered itself also, by repeated huzzas and acclamations during the time of drinking the toasts.

About 6 o'clock, the people retired from the plain to the State House parade, and after thirteen cheers, returned to their several homes with decency and order.

The following toasts were drank, under a discharge of thirteen cannon.

1. The Congress.
2. Our great and good Ally, Louis XVI., and the other friendly powers of Europe.
3. His Excellency George Washington, Esq.
4. His Excellency John Adams, Esq. late Minister at the Court of London.
5. The brave Officers and Soldiers of the late American Army.
6. The memory of the Heroes who have fallen in defence of American Liberty.
7. The memory of General Greene.
8. Agriculture, Manufactures and Commerce.
9. The virtuous daughters of America.
10. A speedy coalition of parties, in pursuit of the public good.
11. May the United States enjoy freedom, under a just and efficient government.
12. Liberty and happiness to all mankind.
13. THE DAY.

The celebrity of the day was heightened by the attendance and alertness of the United Company of the Train of Artillery, under the orders of Col. Tillinghast, who closed the celebration by a discharge of thirteen cannon from Federal Hill.—Gaz.

ARRIVAL OF GEN. WASHINGTON IN PROVIDENCE, AUGUST 18, 1790.—On Wednesday, about 4 o'clock, P. M. arrived from New-York in the packet Hancock, Capt. Brown, the President of the United States, with his Suite, accompanied by Gov. Clinton, of New-York, Thos. Jefferson, Esq. Secretary of State, Theodore Foster, Esq. one of the Senators from this State, Judge Blair, Mr. Smith, of South Carolina, and Mr. Gilman, of New-Hampshire, members of Congress. A procession was formed agreeable to a previous arrangement, and the President escorted to his lodgings at Mr. Daggett's.

[Here follows the order of procession.]

The arrival of Capt. Brown, at the entrance of the harbor, was announced by the discharge of a cannon from Federal Hill, when the procession was formed at the south end of the town. On the President's landing, he was welcomed by a federal discharge of cannon and the ringing of bells. The concourse of people was prodigious. The procession was conducted with great decorum, and exceeded any thing of the kind before exhibited in this town.

All ages, classes and sexes, were full of sensibility on this joyful occasion. The brilliant appearance of the ladies from the windows was politely noticed by the President, and gave animation to the scene. On the President's arrival at Mr. Daggett's, another federal salute took place, and after three cheers, the procession retired. On the evening of the same day, the President and many others took a walk on the College green, to view the illumination of that edifice, which was done by the students, and made a most splendid appearance.

On Thursday, in the forenoon, the President, accompanied by the gentlemen who came passengers with him, and many of the citizens, walked through the principal streets, to view the town, in the course of which they were escorted to the College by the Students, and by Dr. Manning introduced into the College Library and Museum, and afterwards went on board a large Indiaman on the stocks, belonging to Messrs. Brown & Francis.

At 3 o'clock, an elegant entertainment was served in the Court House, for upwards of 200 persons—and many toasts were drank under discharges of cannon. At the close, the President gave as a toast, "The Town of Providence"—rose from the table and went immediately on board Capt. Brown's packet for departure. He was attended by a very numerous procession, which returned to Gov. Fenner's, and after three cheers, dispersed in good order.

It may be proper to remark, that no untoward accident took place—that every countenance indicated the most heart-felt joy, and that we have reason to believe the President was perfectly satisfied with his reception.

The following addresses were presented on Thursday

To the President of the United States.

SIR—We, the inhabitants of Providence, beg leave to offer you our congratulations on your safe arrival in this place.

We are sensibly affected by the honor conferred on the State, and on us in particular, in the present visit; and be assured, Sir, we shall think ourselves peculiarly happy, if by our utmost attentions, it can be made agreeable to you.

We gladly seize this first opportunity to express the most sincere satisfaction in your election to the Presidency of the United States. The unbiassed voice of a great nation, which unanimously called you to that important trust, is an event, of which the annals of history affords no example; nor will future time see it followed, unless the most transcendent merit and the clearest fame should be united in the same person.

As General of the armies of the United States, and as their President, we are attached to you by every motive of gratitude and affection. To the conduct and magnanimity of her Commander in Chief, uniformly displayed in the course of a long and arduous war, America is indebted, under the smiles of heaven, for her freedom and independence: And the consummate prudence and ability, manifested by the exercise of the powers delegated to the President of the United States, exhibits to the world a character of no less celebrity in the Cabinet than in the field.

From our most excellent Constitution, and the benign influence of those virtues which characterize your administration, we entertain the most pleasing hopes of the extension of Commerce, the encouragement of Agriculture and Manufactures, and of the establishment of public faith, and private credit; and that the liberties of America will be transmitted to very late posterity.

We ardently pray that a life so conducive to the welfare of millions may be long preserved, and that, when the fatal shaft shall be sped, which will deprive America of her great Benefactor, you may ascend those regions where only exalted virtue will be fully rewarded.

Done in Town Meeting, legally assembled, this seventeenth day of August, 1790, and in the fifteenth year of Independence.

Signed at the request of the town, by

JABEZ BOWEN, Moderator.

DANIEL COOKE, Town Clerk.

THE PRESIDENT'S ANSWER.

To the Inhabitants of Providence.

GENTLEMEN—The congratulations which you offer me, upon my arrival in this place, are received with no small degree of pleasure. For your attentions and endeavors to render the town agreeable to me, and for your expressions of satisfaction at my election to the Presidency of the United States, I return to you my warmest thanks.

My sensibility is warmly excited by your ardent declarations of attachment to my person, and the Constitution.

As, under the smiles of Heaven, America is indebted for freedom and Independence rather to the joint exertions of the citizens of the several States, in which it may be your boast to have borne no inconsiderable share, than to the conduct of her Commander in Chief—so is she indebted for their support rather to a continuation of those exertions, than to the prudence and ability manifested in the exercise of the powers delegated to the President of the United States.

Your hopes of the extension of Commerce, the encouragement of Agriculture and Manufactures, and the establishment of the public faith, as reared upon our Constitution, are well founded; and it is my earnest wish that you may extensively enjoy the benefits arising from them.

I thank you, gentlemen, for your prayer for my future welfare, and offer up my best wishes for your individual and collective happiness.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

To the President of the United States of America.

THE ADDRESS OF THE CORPORATION OF RHODE-ISLAND COLLEGE.

SIR—Though among the last to congratulate you on your advancement to that dignified and important station to which the unanimous voice of a free country has called you, the Corporation of Rhode-Island College claim to be among the first in warmth of affection for your person, and in esteem for your public character. In placing you at the head of the United States, regard was had no less to the influence of your example over the morals of the people, than to your talents in the administration of government. Happy are we to observe that similar motives have influenced your conduct in filling the lower offices in the Executive Department. We most devoutly venerate that superintending Providence, which in the course of events propitious to this country, has called you forth to establish, after having defended, our rights and liberties.

Agitated in the hour of doubtful conflict, exulting in your victories, we watched your footsteps with the most anxious solicitude. Our fervent supplications to heaven, that you might be furnished with that wisdom and prudence necessary to guide us to freedom and independence, have been heard and most graciously answered.

For the preservation of this freedom, one great object still demands our peculiar attention—the education of our youth. Your sentiments, Sir, on this subject, “that knowledge is in every country the surest basis of public happiness, and the strongest barrier against the intruding hand of despotism,” as they perfectly accord with those of the most celebrated characters that ever adorned human nature, so they leave no room to apprehend you will refuse the wreath with which the guardians of literature, here, would entwine your brow.

By restoring your health, and protracting your life, so dear to this country, Divine Providence has in a late instance, furnished to millions matter of thanksgiving and praise.

That you may long remain on earth, a blessing to mankind and the support of your country; that you may afterwards receive the rewards of virtue, by having the approbation of God, is our most sincere desire, and fervent supplication.

Signed by order of the Corporation.

JABEZ BOWEN, Chancellor.

Providence, August 19, 1790.

THE PRESIDENT'S ANSWER.

To the Corporation of Rhode-Island College.

GENTLEMEN—The circumstances which have, until this time prevented you from offering your congratulations on my advancement to the station I hold in the government of the United States, do not diminish the pleasure I feel in receiving this flattering proof of your affection and esteem; for which I request you will accept my thanks.

In repeating thus publicly, my sense of the zeal you displayed for the success of the cause of your country, I only add a single suffrage to the general testimony, which all who were acquainted with you in the most critical and doubtful moments of our struggle for liberty and independence, have constantly borne in your favor.

While I cannot remain insensible to the indulgence with which you regard the influence of my example, and the tenor of my conduct, I rejoice, in having so favorable an opportunity of felicitating the State of Rhode-Island on the co-operation, I am sure to find in the measures adopted by the guardians of literature in this place, for improving the morals of the rising generation, and inculcating upon their minds, principles peculiarly calculated for the preservation of our rights and liberties. You may rely on whatever protection I may be able to offer, in so important an object as the education of our youth.

I will now conclude, gentlemen, by expressing my acknowledgments, for the tender manner in which you mention the restoration of my health on a late occasion; and with ardent wishes that Heaven may prosper the literary Institution under your care, in giving you the best of its blessings in this world, as well as in the world to come.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

The members of the Society of the Cincinnati who were in town, waited upon the President on Thursday, and by his permission were introduced by Col. Olney, who verbally addressed him to the following purport:—

SIR—I have the honor to wait upon your Excellency with the members of the Cincinnati of the State of Rhode-Island, assembled on this happy occasion, to pay their respects to you in person, and to congratulate you on your safe arrival in this town; wishing you the enjoyment of health, and prosperity in the government over which you preside. As many of the gentlemen have not the honor of a personal acquaintance with your Excellency, with your permission, Sir, I will introduce them.

To which the President was pleased to reply :

"It gives me great pleasure to see so many of my old military companions, on the present occasion, and I shall be happy to take them by the hand." After a particular introduction, the President expressed the most sincere wishes for their health and prosperity.

The President afterwards embarked on board Capt. Brown's packet, for New-York.

The sum of $2000 was raised in Philadelphia, "for the use of the poor of Providence and its districts, who suffered by the fever," which sum was duly received.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN PROVIDENCE.—These invaluable institutions were commenced on the last Monday in October, 1800. The first measures taken for their establishment, were introduced in the Select Committee of the Providence Association of Mechanics and Manufacturers.

CITIZENS.

The solemn day was announced at sunrise by the discharge of 16 cannon, in quick succession, from Col. Fisher's artillery. The muffled bells tolled a solemn knell. At 11, the procession proceeded from Broad-street to the house of Col. Jeremiah Olney, where the Bier was taken up, when it moved, in slow march, to solemn music, to the Baptist meeting-house. The military in front halted, and opened to the right and left, with arms reversed, and leaning on their arms. The procession moved through, the music playing a dead march.—The whole having entered the house, and the audience composed, the Throne of Grace was addressed by the Rev. Stephen Gano, in a style at once impressive and affecting. An elegant and pertinent Oration was then pronounced by Col. George R. Burrill. A funeral anthem, sung by the united choirs of the several religious societies, solemnized the heart to all the tenderness of woe. The meeting-house exhibited such affecting testimonials of affliction, as were highly calculated to impress the mind with seriousness and solemn veneration. The pulpit was entirely covered with black, with the addition of a mourning-piece in front, representing a pedestal and urn, with three angels over it, as guarding the richest dust of America; the pedestal inscribed with this motto, "Sacred to the Memory of the illustrious WASHINGTON;" under it the following lines :

Glory with all her lamps shall burn,
And watch the Warrior's sleeping clay,
Till the last trumpet rouse his urn,
To aid the triumphs of the day.

The canopy over the pulpit was shrouded and the curtains at the windows were overhung with black. The chandelier was also elegantly ornamented with the habiliments of mourning. On the galleries and urns were likewise exhibited the emblems of sorrow. On the south side of the pulpit a stage was erected covered with black, for the accommodation of the four little masters who accompanied the procession, who surrounded the urn placed thereon. Their deportment during the solemnization was highly becoming, and much beyond their years. The design, which was highly emblematic, greatly increased the solemnity of the scene.

On no occasion do we recollect observing so crowded and attentive an audience. The solemnity of the scene pervaded every heart. The exercise being finished, the procession formed as before, and marched to solemn music to the Episcopal Church, where the Bier passed through the ranks of the military, leaning on their arms reversed, into the church-yard. A solemn funeral dirge was played on the organ, as the Bier was set down, after which the service was pronounced by Rev. A. L. Clarke.

A detachment of the troops concluded the last funeral honors, by firing three vollies. The Bier then passed under the Masonic Arch, and was deposited under the church. The procession returned to Col. Olney's, to the tune of the President's march, with drums unmuffled. The whole were then dismissed. The Masons returned to Mason's Hall, and deposited the Urn, as a monument to their deceased Brother. Minute-guns were discharged during the march of the procession, and half hour guns until sunset. The bells tolled their solemn peals until nine at night. The colors of the shipping in the harbor, and the large standard at the bridge, were hoisted half-mast.

The transactions of the day were conducted with the utmost order and regularity. They were evincive of the grateful remembrance of HIM, "who was first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Col. J. Whipple receives the thanks of the Committee, for his exertions and attention during the ceremonial.

Rev. Dr. JAMES MANNING, President of Rhode-Island College, died July 29, 1791, in the 54th year of his age.

From the United States Chronicle of January 22, 1801.

FIRE.—Yesterday between the hours of 9 and 10 in the morning this town was alarmed by the cry of Fire—it was breaking out in Mr. John Corlis's large new store on his wharf, and was soon at such a height that no exertions could stop the destructive progress: the wind was fresh at N. W. and the fire continued to rage with unabated fury until past 2 P. M. in which time the following dwelling houses, stores, &c. were totally destroyed, viz. The store in which the fire was first discovered—the large stores adjoining, the property of the heirs of the late Welcome Arnold, Esq.—the large and elegant seat of Thomas Lloyd Halsey, Esq. (late the property of Mr. Sterry) with the extensive range of stores, &c. back of it—the large brick house late Col. Nightingale's with stores, &c. on the wharf—that very large store lately built by Messrs. Clark and Nightingale—the house, stores, &c. belonging to Col. Jeremiah Olney, (late Governor Cook's)—Capt. Daniel Bucklin's house, out-houses, &c. the houses, stores, &c. belonging to Messrs. Moses Eddy and Brothers Mrs. Arnold's, &c. On the East side of the street, a large house the property of Mr. Joseph Peck—Mr. Nicholas Power's house (occupied by Miss Power)—Mr. William Harding's house, &c. Mrs. Hull's house, &c.—Mr. Corlis' house was on fire several times, but by the unremitted exertions of the inhabitants was saved.

The damage cannot at present be estimated—but must be very great. Indeed the town of Providence never before, by this destructive element, suffered a loss which will bear any comparison with this.—It is not yet ascertained how the fire originated. As the ruins were burning all last night, a strong military patrol was appointed who attended that duty.

From the Providence Gazette of February 21, 1807.

The late freshet has occasioned a greater loss of property, and more real distress than any event of the kind, in this vicinity since its first settlement. It began to rain the night of Friday the 13th inst. and continued with but little intermission till Sunday morning. The two expensive bridges across Seekonk river were entirely carried away; all the bridges across Pawtucket river, as far up as we have heard from, are impassable; and, except at Pawtucket Falls, and Martin's Way, about 6 miles above Pawtucket, are chiefly destroyed. Several very valuable mills and Iron-works on that river have been also destroyed, particularly two mills at Woonsocket, belonging to James Arnold, Esq. and the Iron-works belonging to Stephen Jenckes, Esq. a little above Pawtucket Falls. Two of the bridges over Moshassuck river, in this town,—half the bridges at Pawtuxet, and several other bridges and dams across Pawtuxet river, are carried away. Great exertions are making to replace nearly all the bridges, as soon as the season will admit, as the public in general, and this town and vicinity in particular, are greatly incommoded by the almost entire interruption of communication. Few scenes could equal in grandeur and sublimity the appearance at Pawtucket Falls during the whole of Sunday. The quantity, descent and rapidity of the water, sweeping before it the huge rocks of the abutment of the bridge; the houses, stores and iron-works, with their foundations, that stood in its way, and swallowing the whole in the turgid gulf below, filled the mind with astonishment, and excited the highest degree of reverence and awe towards the Being who governs the elements, and holds the mighty waters as in the hollow of his hand. No sooner had the water abated, than a scene of horror and dismay succeeded. In the midst of the pleasant village of Pawtucket, and in the place where many industrious and thriving men had been constantly employed in the Iron-Manufactories, not a trace was left of house or shop. The very earth was gone, and the solid and cragged rock alone was left unmoved.

From the R. I. American of June 26, 1812.

WAR.—On Wednesday evening last, the President's Proclamation was received in this town. The bells of the several houses of worship tolled during the greater part of yesterday, the shops and stores were generally shut, and the flags of the shipping at the wharves, as well as that on the Great Bridge, were displayed at half mast. Every thing wore the aspect of mourning, expressing the feelings of our citizens upon the great national calamity which has befallen us.

FIRE.—On Tuesday morning last, between the hours of 3 and 4, the inhabitants of this town were alarmed by the cry of fire. It proved to be in the large and elegant church belonging to the Benevolent Congregational Society, which, notwithstanding the animated exertions of the citizens, was entirely consumed. A part of the organ, the clock, and some other articles, were preserved.—There is no doubt but the fire was occasioned by an incendiary, supposed with an intention to destroy the town; and indeed had it not been for the favorable circumstance of a continued shower of rain, it is supposed his diabolical wishes might have been gratified. We are sorry to state that the Rev. Mr. Edes, the worthy Pastor, was injured, though not seriously, by the fall of a piece of timber.

Since writing the above, two men have been taken up and confined, who are strongly suspected of being the incendiaries.

Gazette of June 18, 1814.

[A reward of $500 was afterwards offered by the Town-Council, for the discovery of the incendiary, but without success.]

PEACE.—It is with the most lively and heartfelt satisfaction, that we have it in our power this week to announce the joyful news of a TREATY OF PEACE, on honorable terms, having been concluded between the American and British Commissioners, on the 24th of December last; which glorious news was received in this town on Monday afternoon last, and was immediately announced by the firing of cannon and ringing of bells. In the evening a partial illumination took place; and on Tuesday evening, the town was most splendidly illuminated, in testimony of the joy of the inhabitants. Never before, we believe, has the town of Providence exhibited signs of such sincere and universal pleasure, as were witnessed on the receipt of the intelligence. With sincere gratitude we would exclaim, Laus Deo.

From the Rhode-Island American of September 26, 1815.

AWFUL STORM.—It devolves upon us, and we exercise it as a melancholy duty, to present to the public a brief and general account of the awful storm which was so severely experienced in this town, on Saturday last. We are aware that a more minute and circumstantial narrative will be expected from those whose province it is to "note the passing tidings of the times;" but let it be remembered that imminent danger precludes nicety of remark, and diversity of ruin forbids accuracy of calculation. Those who had no property to lose, had household treasures to save, and we may be allowed to say that the preservation of the objects of human affection is more important than the rescue of goods and chattels.—Whether we consider the violence of the late storm, or the desolation which ensued, we do not incur the hazard of contradiction in pronouncing it the most sublime and tremendous elemental strife that has been witnessed for centuries by the inhabitants of this town. It seemed as if He, who "rides upon the whirlwind and directs the storm," had permitted sea and air to combine their strength and terror to give us an impressive assurance of His power, to humble our pride and to discipline our affections.—"The angry spirit of the waters" rose in might and majesty, and the productions of nature and the fabricks of art were the victims of his fury.

A storm of rain from the N. E. commenced on Friday last, and continued with little intermission till Saturday morning, when the wind was from the East. Between 8 and 9, however, it shifted to the S. E. and continued to blow with increasing violence till half past eleven, when suddenly changing to the West, the progress of the calamity we now deplore was happily staid. The tide rose to an unprecedented and terrifying height, (12 feet higher than spring tides) and inundated the streets in various parts of the town. It extended in Westminster-street a considerable distance beyond the Theatre. The lives of many families, particularly on the west side, were in imminent danger. Consternation and dismay were depicted in every countenance—all were eager to fly, but knew not where to find an ark of safety. Vessels were forced into the streets and threatened destruction to the surrounding buildings. Women and children were rescued from chamber windows, and men were seen buffeting the torrent in the streets, to save a friend or secure an asylum.

Weybosset Bridge was entirely carried away about 10 o'clock.

Every vessel in port, with two exceptions, were driven from their moorings. Thirty-five sail, including 4 ships (one of them over 500 tons) 9 brigs, 7 schooners, and 15 sloops, now form a melancholy dismantled line at the head of the Cove. One of them drifted within the limits of North-Providence, and, strange as it may appear, Pleasant-street is the anchorage ground for a burdensome sloop.

Our wharves, on which were stored the riches of every clime, exhibit the most sad and repulsive aspect. Scarcely a vestige remains of the stores (many of them very spacious) which crowded the wharves bordering on Weybosset-street. Most of those South of the Market-House to India Point, shared a similar fate.

Many of our streets, but a few days since the theatre of virtuous and prosperous enterprise, are almost barricaded by an accumulation of lumber, scows, boats, &c. and peopled by busy sufferers who are anxious to identify, reclaim and preserve their property.

The sufferings and losses of the inhabitants at Eddy's Point were very severe. Several dwelling-houses were carried away, while others were divested by the pitiless storm, of every article of provision, clothing and furniture.

The damage sustained at India Point was very extensive. The valuable distillery there is rendered inoperative for many months.

Mill Bridge, at the North-End, is rendered impassable for any but foot passengers; and the upper works of the Bridge at India Point are entirely gone.

The third story of the Washington Insurance Office occupied by the Mount-Vernon Lodge was much injured, being perforated by the bowsprit of the ship Ganges when she rushed with impetuosity up the river. This handsome building was otherwise, but not materially, injured.

The Rev. Mr. Williams' Meeting-House, situated in a very exposed place, received considerable injury, and had the tide continued to rise for a few minutes longer, must inevitably have swelled the catalogue of devastation.

The Second Baptist Meeting-House, injudiciously located near the water, was totally destroyed by the winds and waves, and the relics are now to be seen in our streets.

The elegant fence which encloses the First Baptist Meeting-House was injured in several places by the fall of surrounding poplars, but, to the astonishment of every one, the magnificent spire of that superb edifice still towers sublime.

We do not learn that any other public buildings have sustained material damage.

Chimnies, trees, fences, &c. were prostrated in every direction.

We are happy to state that amid this war of elements and wreck of matter, only two persons were lost—Mr. DAVID BUTLER and Mr. REUBEN WINSLOW, who were unhappily drowned at India Point.

It is computed that Five Hundred Buildings of various descriptions have been destroyed.

The loss consequent upon this sad calamity is estimated at a million and a half of dollars.

We forbear, on the present occasion to name a single sufferer, as every one must directly or indirectly participate in a calamity so extensive. Many poor men have lost their all—the thrifty tradesman, who, but a few days since, had opulence and eminence in perspective, beholds himself all but a bankrupt—and the wealthy merchant feels that his losses must teach him prudence, even in the dispensation of his charities.

From the Providence Gazette of July 5, 1817.

ARRIVAL OF THE PRESIDENT—On Monday evening last, about half past eight o'clock, his Excellency the President of the United States arrived here in the steam boat Fire-Fly, accompanied by the revenue cutter Vigilant, Capt. Cahoon and the U. States schooner Lynx. On landing at the wharf of Gen. Carrington he was received with every demonstration of regard by the Town's Committee, and a large number of citizens, escorted by the four independent military companies selected for the purpose, and a numerous procession of citizens, to his lodgings at Chappotin's Hotel, which had been prepared in the most elegant and commodious manner for his reception.—Although it had been expected that his Excellency would arrive in the afternoon of that day, accordingly no preparations had been made for an illumination, many of the houses in the streets through which he passed were brilliantly lighted up, and exhibited a very handsome appearance; and as he passed through our streets he was greeted by the firing of cannon, the ringing of bells, and the display of our national flag at different parts of the town, as well as on board the vessels in the harbor. On arriving at his lodgings, he was several times cheered by the citizens, and appeared to reciprocate the joy which was expressed on every countenance, by repeatedly bowing to those who had assembled opposite the Hotel, for the purpose of testifying their regard and attachment to the Chief Magistrate of the U. States.—On the next morning a large number of our citizens and other gentlemen who had arrived here, were introduced to his Excellency, after which he mounted on horseback, and took a view of the town, accompanied by Mr. Mason, his private Secretary, Com. Perry and Gen. Swift, and by a considerable number of our most distinguished citizens on horseback, and appeared much pleased with the situation and general appearance of the town. He visited Brown University, and was received with politeness by the government and students of that Institution. He left town about 11 o'clock, A. M. and was escorted to the line by the Independent Company of Light Dragoons, of this town, the Smithfield and Cumberland Light Dragoons, and a numerous cavalcade of citizens. On arriving at Pawtucket, he visited the Cotton Manufacturing establishments at that place; he then reviewed the troops at Seekonk and Wrentham, and dined at the latter place, and arrived at Dedham the same day, where he lodged. On passing the line at Pawtucket, he was received and welcomed by Col. Sumner, Aid to General Brooks, and in all the different towns in Massachusetts through which he passed, was received with the greatest respect and attention.

RICHARD J. ARNOLD,
Committee of Arrangements.

A delegation from the Town-Council and their associates of the Cincinnati, composing the General Committee of the town of Providence, was despatched towards Hartford on Friday, with a view of meeting the General, and tendering him the earnest wishes of the inhabitants, that he would honor them with a visit. On Sunday morning, it was feared by the General Committee, that from a change in the General's expected route, their delegation might not be able to see him until he should have arrived in the State, and two gentlemen were despatched on the other two different roads to Connecticut, with similar instructions to those of the first Committee, the return of which gave information that the General, in company with the first Committee, was at Eaton's in Plainfield, and would proceed into town in the course of the forenoon of Monday. Early on that morning, says the American of yesterday, (to which paper we are indebted for all of the following account, for which credit is given by quotation marks) “the troops and citizens were in readiness to meet him, and the western road was lined with citizens, crowding towards the point where the reception was to take place. Every horse and vehicle in the town appeared to be in requisition, and the windows on the streets through which the General was to pass, were thronged with females, waiting to greet the Nation’s Guest.—The Governor’s Aids proceeded as far as Fish’s Hotel, where they met the General, and were introduced by the Committee who had attended him from Connecticut. Colonel Mallett, the senior Aid, in a short Address, expressed the satisfaction they felt at the honor of the introduction, and the earnest wish of the Executive to welcome the General in his own, and in the name of the State. To which the General replied in a warm and concise manner. He was then conducted to the carriage provided for him, by the Governor’s Aids, and accompanied by them until he reached the line of the town, where the military were drawn up, and an immense concourse of citizens on foot, mounted, and in carriages, were waiting his arrival.”

The Town-Council and their associates received the General about 12 o’clock, at the line of the town, where he alighted, and was addressed by Col. Carlile, acting President of the Council, and Chairman of the General Committee, as follows :

SIR—The General Committee, consisting of the Town-Council of the town of Providence, and the members of the State Society of Cincinnati, who are associated with them in the pleasing duty, beg leave, respectfully to address you: We congratulate you on your pleasant and prosperous voyage across the Atlantic ; and welcome you to the American shore and to the town which we represent.

While the friends of liberal principles and good government, in both hemispheres, have abundant reason to be grateful for your disinterested and valuable services in the cause of freedom, the American people are peculiarly indebted to you, for the zeal with which you espoused their cause in the darkest period of their Revolution, and when the hearts of the most sanguine friends of their Independence, were appalled at the dark clouds which were lowering on their political horizon. The hour of calamity is the most certain test of the sincerity of professions. You espoused the cause of America in such a ^f hour ; and, parting from the endearments of domestic felicityⁿ crossed the wide ocean and exposed your life in defence of her liberties.—Your military career was as brilliant as it was serr viceable. The confidence of our beloved Washington was no misplaced, when bestowed on you.

In all the vicissitudes of life ; in prosperity and adversity ; in every change of the political state of Europe, the affectionate regard of the American people has followed you : the nation will never forget your devotion or your services.

To which Address the General made a short, appropriate, animated and affecting reply.

"He was then received with military honors, and conducted to the barouche prepared for his reception, and being seated, was greeted with a spontaneous burst of feeling, from the immense concourse of spectators. The procession was then put in motion, agreeably to the order of arrangements ; and when formed, extended more than a mile. The General, uncovered, rode alone in the barouche, drawn by four white horses, bestowing through the whole march, the most complaisant smiles and greetings on all around ; shaking, most cordially, the hands of those who crowded around the carriage and took advantage of every pause in the procession, to obtain the high honor of a grasp of the hand of Lafayette—a circumstance which every citizen will be proud hereafter to tell his children. As the General proceeded up the hill leading from Olneyville, he was again greeted with the shouts of a large collection of citizens, assembled on the high bank directly over the road.

"The Marine Artillery, stationed on the Dexter Training Ground, pealed their welcome as he passed, and the General soon entered the populous part of the town. In passing through High and Westminster-streets, and until he arrived at the Court-house, he was welcomed by that most expressive token of affectionate interest, the waving of white handkerchiefs by the fair hands of the ladies, who crowded every building from which they could obtain a view of this distinguished personage. Many females, we observed, in the excess of their feelings, suspended this token of welcome, to gaze more intently at the object whom they appeared alone to see in the whole procession, and many a fine eye was wet with the gush of a tear, which the rush of so many sublime and sympathetic emotions sent warm from the heart.

"As those in the rear of the procession descended High-street, the forward view was uncommonly fine. The long procession extending to the bridge, and there apparently lost in an immense sea of heads, and the reflection that the multitude who had assembled, and the impulses which animated them were all devoted to one man, and that man a private individual, a foreigner, coming among us with a claim upon our gratitude, which the intervention of 40 years, instead of diminishing, seemed to have been collecting in one reservoir of feeling, was calculated to excite emotions which it is impossible to describe as to forget.

"On arriving in front of the State House, the General alighted, and was received in a peculiarly interesting manner. The poplar avenue leading to the building was lined on each side with nearly two hundred misses arrayed in white, protected by a file of soldiers on each side, and holding in their hands bunches of flowers, which (as the General proceeded up the avenue, supported by the Governor's Aids) they strewed in his path, at the same time waving their white handkerchiefs. The General was afterwards pleased to express the peculiar and high satisfaction he took in this simple and touching arrangement.

"On reaching the landing of the stairs, the General turned toward the multitude, and at the same moment, the veteran Captain Stephen Olney (who served under the General repeatedly, and was the first to force the enemies' works at Yorktown, in which he was seconded, at another point, almost simultaneously by Lafayette) approached the General, who instantly recognized his old companion in arms, and embraced and kissed him in the most earnest and affectionate manner. A thrill went through the whole assembly, and scarcely a dry eye was to be found among the spectators, while the shouts of the multitude, at first suppressed, and then, uttered in a manner tempered by the scene, evinced the deep feeling and proud associations it had excited.

"The General was then conducted to the Senate Chamber, where he was appropriately introduced to his Excellency, the members of the Committee, Town Council, &c.

"After this ceremony, he came below, and there, in the most familiar manner shook the hands of a number of ladies and gentlemen. Among the rest, the venerable William Russell, now in his 85th year, was introduced to him. The General shook both the veteran's hands in a most affectionate manner, and in an annunciation, that slightly marked a foreign accent, said he was extremely happy to take his old friend by the hand once more, as it recalled to his memory the delightful associations of his youth. Mr. Russell appeared at first scarcely to comprehend the scene, but in a moment, as if the whole had rushed upon his recollection, he exclaimed in a voice broken by age and still more subdued by feeling, "Oh my dear Marquis, how happy I am to see you once more! I remember well the time I served under you as a volunteer on Rhode-Island!" The General was evidently touched, and on this, as on several other occasions, the tear started to his eye. He then proceeded on foot to the accommodations provided for him, and after entering the Hotel appeared on the Piazza and was greeted in the warmest manner. For nearly two hours, he stood in his apartment and in the most affable manner received the congratulations of every individual who chose to be introduced to him.

"After dinner, in company with the Town Council, &c. the General prepared to proceed on his journey.

"At about half-past four, the troops (at the particular request of General Lafayette, who expressed his admiration of their discipline, and military appearance) were drawn up for review, in a line extending on the street toward Pawtucket. The General then proceeded on foot, and was greeted, on entering the street, with the same joyous acclamations. Supported by the arm of the Governor, he walked in front of the line of troops, stopping to shake hands with all the principal officers. On arriving at the extreme wing, he halted, and his carriage was drawn up for his reception. Here the Chief Marshal expressed very appropriately, the gratitude of himself and his fellow-citizens for the honour conferred on the town by his presence, and assured the General, (who expressed his particular thanks to the Chief Marshal for his kind attentions, and his warmest and most respectful gratitude to the people for the highly gratifying testimonials of affection they had shown him) that the obligation was entirely on the side of himself and his fellow-citizens.

"His Excellency also addressed the General, and assuring him of his high consideration for his character, and the peculiar satisfaction he had enjoyed in the interview, took his leave for the present, hoping to have the honour of soon paying his respects to him again. The General, with much feeling, reiterated his grateful acknowledgments to his Excellency and to the citizens, and assured him he should soon embrace another opportunity to visit the town. He also begged the Governor to convey his most respectful thanks to all who had done him so much honour. He then entered the carriage, accompanied by his Excellency, Colonel Bowen, and Zachariah Allen, Esq. and amid the cheers of the populace, left the town. He was escorted into Massachusetts by the Cincinnati, &c. and a numerous company of citizens on horseback and in carriages (many of whom accompanied him to Boston) where he was received by the Boston Deputation, and conveyed on his route. Much credit is due to the Town-Council, the Committees, and the Chief Marshal and assistants, for the prompt and handsome manner they have carried the wishes of the citizens into effect, and the fine military appearance of the troops, and their neat and ready manœuvres, fully justified the compliment bestowed upon them by our distinguished guest.

"The General, on being asked if he was not fatigued with his exertions, promptly replied, that he experienced too much pleasure, to find any time for fatigue.

"We are aware, notwithstanding the length of this article, we have omitted many highly interesting circumstances, and in the hurry of composition, may have committed some errors. But the feelings which this event has excited, we are satisfied will be one of the proudest recollections the citizens of the town and of the State can ever dwell upon, and we have the satisfaction of saying, that for our means, our population, and the short notice of the visit of our guest, as well as his still shorter stay, no place in the Union can exhibit warmer and more grateful testimonials of their affection for this MAN OF THE AGE, the truly and intrinsically illustrious LAFAYETTE."

From the Providence Gazette of May 25th, 1825.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—At a few minutes past 11 o'clock on Monday night last, we were called to witness one of the most alarming and extensive fires which has ever been experienced in this place. So rapid was its progress, that some doubt yet exists concerning the building from which it first broke out. It was either the one occupied by Mr. Rhodes G. Allen, on Union-Street, as a cabinet maker's shop, or a small building adjoining. These, together with a carpenter's shop occupied by Mr. Joseph Robinson, and a large quantity of lumber on the other side of the street, in the rear of the Universalist Chapel, were quickly consumed. The large three story house, at the junction of Union and Westminster-Streets, was soon on fire, and in a few moments after, the eaves of the Chapel were also in a flame. The intense heat from the buildings on the side, and the burning materials in the rear of this elegant building, rendered its destruction inevitable. It was soon cleared of the pew-cushions, books and every thing which it was possible to remove. In a short time the steeple burst into a flame, and the whole building was enveloped in fire. By this time the fire had extended up Westminster-Street to the house and store of Captain Young, both of which were destroyed. The progress of the flames was checked in this quarter, by the exertions of the firemen, aided by the brick wall which formed the side of Captain Young's house. The house directly in front of the Chapel, occupied by Mrs. Taylor, and the one on the east side, owned by General Carrington, soon added to the conflagration. The house and barn of Mr. H. P. Franklin, adjoining General Carrington's, were also soon on fire, and the barn was consumed in a few minutes.—The Universalist Chapel at this time presented a truly magnificent spectacle. A large quantity of cotton and whiskey, stored in the cellar, added much to the fury of the flames. The whole covering of the tower had fallen, and the cupola remained supported by the blazing timbers. After remaining for a time poised in this manner, the frame of the tower began to waver, and the cupola, in perfect shape, surmounted with its balls and vane, and completely enveloped in a sheet of fire, descended to the ground, exhibiting in its fall, a scene of grandeur and sublimity, beyond description.

Every possible exertion was made by the firemen and citizens, to arrest the progress of the destructive element. The engines were well supplied with water, and together with the Hydraulion, stationed at the cove, in the rear of the fire, did great execution. At this time, from the direction of the wind, it was feared that the flames would sweep down Westminster Street, and at some moments the destruction of the whole street, from the scene of the conflagration to the bridge, was thought almost inevitable. And it is almost certain that nothing but the sudden changing of the wind, prevented a great portion of the town from being laid in ashes. The large three story house belonging to Mr. James U. Arnold was on fire, and was preserved only by the most vigorous exertion, after the roof had been partially consumed. It was not until after three hours of the most unremitted toil, that the citizens had the satisfaction of seeing the flames abate, and it was nearly day-break before they were at length effectually stopped

Much credit is due to the different Fire Companies, for the skill and perseverance exhibited by them, upon this occasion ; and also, to the First Light Infantry, who with a promptitude and alacrity which does them honor, assembled to protect the property exposed in the streets.

We are unable to state the actual loss of property. The following list of the names of the sufferers and of the buildings burnt and injured, is, we believe, correct.

The large two story building and shop, occupied by Mr. Rhodes G. Allen as a cabinet-maker.

The large three story house belonging to the heirs of the late James Rhodes, Esq. occupied by his family and by Mrs. Teel, and as a looking-glass manufactory by Mr. ——— Parsons—with a wood house attached. No insurance.

The two story house and a large back store, belonging to, and occupied by Captain Samuel Young—$2300 were insured on the house and store, and $1000 on the goods.

The Universalist Chapel—cost about $19,000—$3000 insured.

The small dwelling house owned and occupied by Mr. George Franklin—$700 insured.

General Carrington's two story dwelling house, occupied by Mr. Cornelius G. Fenner and mother—house and furniture entirely consumed.

The two story house and barn belonging to Mr. Henry P. Franklin. The barn entirely, and the house nearly destroyed.

The two story house of Mr. Oliver Carpenter, occupied by him and the Misses Tower—$1200 insured.

Mrs. Peter Taylor's house, occupied by her and by Mr. Richard S. Updike—$1600 insured.

Two carpenters' shops, owned and occupied by Mr. Joseph Robinson and Mr. Francis Bowen.

Mr. Rhodes G. Allen sustained a heavy loss in unfinished furniture, lumber, and tools of every description, exclusive of his property in the cellars of the Chapel—no insurance.

About 300 barrels of whiskey, consigned to Messrs. B. & C. Dyer & Co. were burnt ; and about 90 bales of cotton ; consigned to the same house, and to Messrs Beckwith & Pearson, the greater part of which is also destroyed. Insurance had been effected on the cotton, at the Phenix Insurance Office, Hartford, to the amount of $12,000.

The above-named buildings, with the exception of Mr. Henry P. Franklin's house, were entirely consumed. The three story house of Mr. James U. Arnold and the two story house of Mr. John Taylor, were much injured. Mr. Arnold's furniture and shops of goods were saved.
